“2008 was a successful year for NICE. We met our targets despite the challenging economic environment. We achieved strong performance in both the enterprise and security sectors throughout the year. The advanced solutions we offer help our enterprise customers comply with regulations and mitigate risk, enhance operational efficiency and improve customer relations, which are key to maintaining their competitive edge and their survival. On the security front, we successfully executed our strategy of integrating multiple security solutions to deliver a single comprehensive, unique and powerful offering. We continue to focus on winning large-scale projects for protecting city centers, critical facilities and transportations systems,” said Haim Shani, Chief Executive Officer, NICE Systems. “Our market leading position, record backlog and pipeline, coupled with our very solid financial standing of over $500 million in cash and equivalents, will enable us to seize new and exciting opportunities and emerge from this downturn as an even stronger company.”

First Quarter and Full Year 2009 Outlook

The company is entering 2009 with a strong backlog, continued demand for its enterprise solutions and strong momentum in the security space. As a result, and taking into account the current macroeconomic environment, the company forecasts moderate year-over-year growth in both non-GAAP revenues and earnings per fully diluted share for full year 2009. The large security backlog won in the second half of 2008 will start to contribute significantly to revenues as of the second quarter 2009.

With regards to guidance for the first quarter of 2009, seasonally the weakest quarter of the year, the company has adopted a cautious approach and is forecasting non-GAAP revenues in the range of $141 — $151 million, with non-GAAP earnings per fully diluted share in the range of 31 to 41 cents.

Non-GAAP financial measures consist of GAAP financial measures adjusted to exclude: amortization of acquired intangible assets, in-process research and development write-off, legal settlements, stock based compensation expenses, as well as certain business combination accounting entries. The purpose of such adjustments is to give an indication of our performance exclusive of non-cash charges and other items that are considered by management to be outside of our core operating results. Our non-GAAP financial measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable GAAP measures, and should be read only in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. Our management regularly uses our supplemental non-GAAP financial measures internally to understand, manage and evaluate our business and make operating decisions. These non-GAAP measures are among the primary factors management uses in planning for and forecasting future periods. Business combination accounting rules requires us to recognize a legal performance obligation related to a revenue arrangement of an acquired entity. The amount assigned to that liability should be based on its fair value at the date of acquisition. The non-GAAP adjustment is intended to reflect the full amount of such revenue. We believe this adjustment is useful to investors as a measure of the ongoing performance of our business. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures provide consistent and comparable measures to help investors understand our current and future operating cash flow performance. These non-GAAP financial measures may differ materially from the non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. Reconciliation between results on a GAAP and non-GAAP basis is provided in a table immediately following the Consolidated Statement of Operations.
