SPRINT NEEDED TO TAKE ACTION

Sprint turned to NICE to help them understand what was impacting customer experience, to drive accountability, improve satisfaction, and decrease costs.

DIAGNOSIS

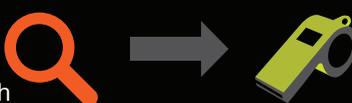

Sprint was awash in data, but couldn't follow a customer from one contact to another.

SOLUTION

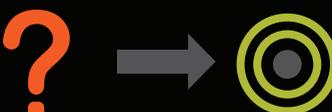

NICE was able to track the customer journey, so Sprint could understand why customers were contacting them multiple times.

Performance data was compiled in aggregate, but not done to the agent level. So, supervisors struggled with how to best coach agents.

NICE tracked agent performance across KPIs, targeted coaching and measured the impact on business results.

Sprint struggled to have agents with the right skill sets on duty at the right times.

NICE associated agents with multiple skills and scheduled with precision to ensure the right agents were more readily available.

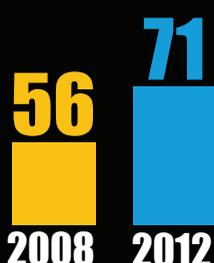

RESULT #1: DRAMATIC CALL VOLUME REDUCTION

ALSO...

- Sprint's customer churn rates were cut to < 2%
- The number of call centers required to deliver improved service was reduced

RESULT #2: SOARING CUSTOMER SATISFACTION

Sprint's American Customer Satisfaction Index (ACSI) rating increased 26.8% over the last five years

Sprint has the highest customer loyalty in the industry

Sprint is currently #1 among wireless carriers for both customer satisfaction and call center satisfaction
